Autohomes, who have over 30 years, experience of making motor caravans and having won many awards for their coachwork, have produced their new Kameo, Kamper and Komet Conversions featuring new exterior graphics, luxurious soft furnishings, new top quality furniture plus new dash top consoles.

The latest Volkswagen Transporter, sports four headlights, a stylish new front bumper with spoiler, special wheel trims, heated rear window and rear wash wipe – all of which combined with the Transporter's well-known attributes of excellent performance, ride, road holding, traction, quietness and build quality makes it the most car-like commercial vehicle in the world.

Safety features on all these models include rear seat restraint straps, flame failure cut-outs on the cookers, isolating taps for each gas appliance and earth leakage and overload circuit breakers on the mains electric hook-ups.

Although not a legal requirement for motor caravans, the upholstery in all Autohomes has fire retardant foam. All three

Kitchen – all models. (Control panel optional extra)

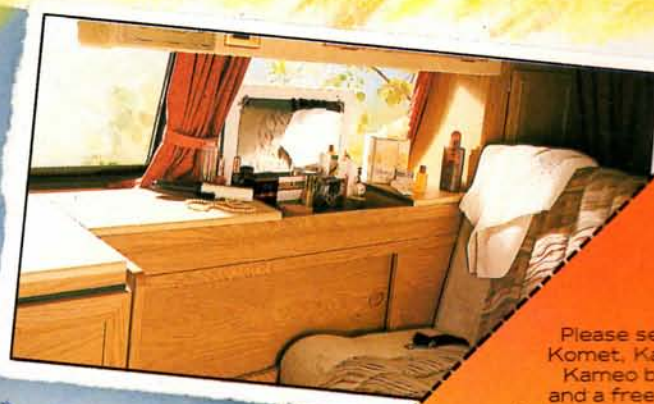

- PURPOSE LEISURE VEHICLES!

models, of course, comply with the SMMT Code of Practice for motor caravans.

The Komet, Kamper and Kameo all have fitted roof racks and fully insulated caravan bodies, and the Kamper is still the only Volkswagen based conversion with a double skinned, fully insulated elevating roof that provides full headroom for the occupants of the high level double bed.
