Your estate in the country

The exciting new Karisma offers the best of both worlds – a roomy estate car and a luxurious leisure vehicle all in one, which allows you to escape to the country whenever the mood takes you. Based on the legendary Volkswagen Transporter, now fitted with a choice of water-cooled 60 or 78 BHP petrol engines, it provides car standards of performance, economy, quietness, ride, handling and roadholding, while the positioning of the engine and gearbox at the rear gives excellent traction, particularly valuable when used off the road.

Karisma is, in fact, a compact, easy-to-drive, very comprehensively equipped, high top motor caravan specifically designed for a couple, although a child's cab bed is available as an optional extra. Despite its very high level of specification, it is by virtue of its sensible and practical layout and design, incredibly spacious inside and has more uncluttered floor space than any other caravan based on the Volkswagen Transporter. The rear seat quickly and easily converts to a large and very comfortable double bed.

Karisma is the first motor caravan in Britain to have television as standard equipment, which can also be quickly and easily removed for use in the home. Other items of standard equipment include a water heater, portable flush toilet stored in its own compartment, second battery, control panel with fuses and battery condition indicator, gas/12 volt refrigerator, integral stainless steel sink and cooker unit with grill, waste water tank, "pull out" cocktail cabinet and crockery storage units complete with melamine crockery, separate crockery drainer next to the sink, cutlery storage, ladies vanity unit with mirror, swivelling passenger cab seat, cab seat covers in matching upholstery fabric, and a large roof rack ideal for carrying such bulky items as folding chairs, awning, toilet tent, etc. The GRP roof is specially re-inforced in the roof rack area, and the roof and caravan body (to window level) is double skinned and insulated with fibreglass mat to provide superb insulation against both noise and temperature change.

Furniture is finished in a very attractive "wipe clean" wood-grained laminate with heat-resistant worktops, the entire floor including the cab is carpeted, and all windows are fully curtained and are retained at the bottom with velcro strips for added privacy.

Other features include extensive storage facilities in wardrobe, cupboards, lockers and drawers, a cavernous storage area above the rear seat, storage space for two gas bottles, and built-in 12 gallon (54.5 litres) waste and fresh water tanks, the latter fitted with a submersible electric pump and an exterior lockable filler. The complete rear drawer storage unit over the engine simply lifts out for easy servicing, and the table, which is free-standing, can also be used outside for meals in the open air.

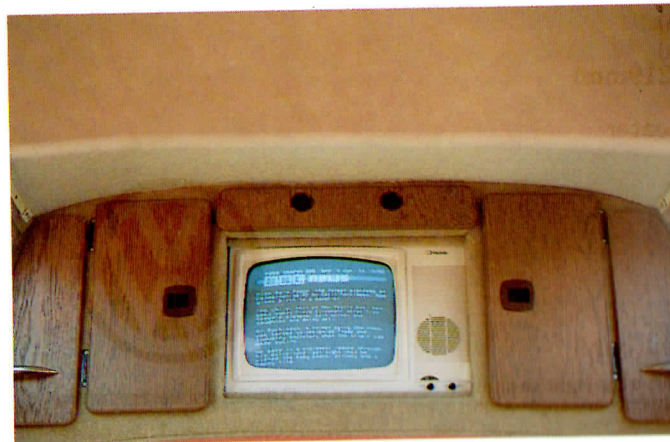

Finally, a safe "blown air" caravan heating system is available as an optional extra. The heater is simply operated by turning on the gas at the bottle and depressing an electric switch. The heater unit and its air intake and exhaust are safely fitted outside the living area of the vehicle.

In short, Karisma is an exceptionally well equipped compact motor caravan, ideally suited for a couple, which can be used as either an estate car or a caravan throughout the year. We think it's the world's ultimate dual-purpose vehicle!

15% MORE ECONOMY with new water-cooled engines

Over 30 years experience in powering vehicles with durable aircooled flat-four engines has provided Volkswagen with the expertise which has enabled them to develop an entirely new water-cooled unit with a choice of 60 or 78 BHP versions. By applying the latest techniques to the design, Volkswagen engineers have obtained up to a 15% reduction in overall fuel consumption.

The new water-cooled engines are designed to run on two star petrol, cutting costs still further, and for the ultimate in economy a 1.6 litre 50 BHP diesel engine can also be specified.

EXTRA SAFETY ALL ROUND

The Volkswagen Transporter, on which the Karisma is based, is probably the safest commercial vehicle in the world. The Transporter's body construction incorporates "safety cell" cab, reinforced doors, deformable front frame elements. All computer calculated. Proven on impact testing. Safety as a design criteria - not as an afterthought.
